David Rist Prize -- 2017 CALL FOR ENTRIES

David Rist Prize: The Rist Prize recognizes the practical benefit sound operations research can have on "real life" decision making and seeks the best implemented military operations research study from those submitted in response to this 2017 Rist Prize Call for Entries. This call solicits abstracts with letters of endorsement for implemented recommendations from studies or other operations research-based efforts, e.g., analyses, methodology improvements, that influenced major decisions or practices. Entries for individuals or teams submitted in response to this call will be eligible for consideration for the Rist Prize. There are two cash prizes that may be awarded: $3,000.00 for first place (i.e. Rist Prize winner) and $1,000.00 for honorable mention. To be considered:

- An unclassified abstract and letter of endorsement for the implemented recommendations from the study must be submitted to the MORS office and postmarked no later than Friday 17 February 2017.
- The abstract cannot be longer than 3 pages (8.5" by 11", single sided, 10 point type minimum, .75" margins all around minimum).
- The letter of endorsement must be signed by an official at a Flag/General officer, Government SES, or company VP level (or equivalent) from the organization using the results of the analysis. The letter of endorsement must address at a minimum:
  - The importance of the problem
  - The contribution of the insight or solution
  - The impact of the result of the analysis

Please send the unclassified abstracts and a letter of endorsement to rist@mors.org, include a complete MORS Abstract Disclosure Form 109 A/B. All forms and instructions are located on the website, click on the Rist Prize link at www.mors.org.

From those entries submitted, the judges will select 3-5 finalists on or about Friday, 3 March 2017.

If selected as a finalist:

- A mentor will be assigned by MORS.
- An annotated briefing must be prepared and submitted no later than Tuesday, 18 April 2017. All presentations will require a Disclosure Form 712 A/B. Classified submission information and a MORS Presentation Disclosure Form 712 A/B are available online.
• The finalists will be invited to present their briefing on the Monday prior to the 85th MORSS (19 June 2017, at the Symposium. Each finalist will be allotted one (1) hour to present — which includes time for questions and answers. This session will be open to all MORSS attendees. During this session judges will ask questions as appropriate. Following this session, the judges will select the Rist Prize winner and the honorable mention.

The Rist Prize winner and honorable mention will be announced at the 85th MORS Symposium plenary session on the morning of Tuesday, 20 June 2017.

Rist Prize Criteria

• To be eligible, an individual or team must submit a presentation that at a minimum meets the following criteria:

• Be an original and self-contained contribution to systems analysis or operations research that has been implemented.

• Provide recognizable new insight into the problem or its solution.

• Have an impact on major decisions.

• Be used by a client organization and have letter(s) of endorsement from a GO/SES/Executive in the client organization so stating. Client organizations are defined as a Government agency or Laboratories, Industry activity, Academic Institution, or other user of the results of operations research.

Eligible study presentations are judged according to the following criteria:

Professional Quality

• Problem definition
• Citation of related work
• Description of approach
• Statement of assumptions
• Explanation of methodology

• Analysis of data and sources
• Sensitivity of analyses (where appropriate)
• Logical development of analysis and conclusions
• Summary of presentation and results

Contribution to Military Operations Research and Major Decisions

• Importance of problem
• Contribution to insight or solution of the problem
• Power of generality of the result

• Originality and innovation
• Contribution of the study to the decision